

Awai Studio Cultural Experience

Discussion Notes (Draft)

Introduction

This document has been prepared to help us confirm our mutual understanding before preparing a simple written agreement for the Awai Studio cultural experience.

It summarizes how Awai Studio currently envisions the experience and its operation. I would be grateful if you could read through it and share your thoughts and suggestions.

1. Experience Details

I would appreciate your confirmation on the following points.

Duration

- 120 minutes

Group Size

- Maximum of 5 guests per private group

Price

- ¥66,000 per private group (tax included)

Experience

- Tea at Shotoku-an
- Conversation through tea

2. Operation

Compensation for Jack

For the initial stage of operation, Awai Studio is considering a payment of ¥30,000 per experience for Jack.

This payment would include:

- Hosting the experience at Shotoku-an
- Providing tea and conversation

I hope we can begin with this arrangement and, as we gain experience, review it together if adjustments become necessary.

Booking Process

I would like to operate the booking process by first checking your availability.

For example, we could decide in advance:

- Available days of the week
- Available starting times

Guests would then choose from several possible dates, and after confirming your schedule, we would finalize the booking.

Unavailable Dates

If there are particular days of the week, periods of the year, or longer absences during which you would prefer not to accept reservations, I would appreciate knowing them in advance.

3. Insurance and Safety

Awai Studio plans to arrange event insurance to help cover injuries to participants and accidents that may occur during the operation of the experience.

At the same time, I would like to confirm the existing insurance relating to the management of the Shotoku-an property.

In particular, if there is already insurance covering accidents arising from the management of the tea room, tatami, sliding doors, garden, waiting room, or other facilities, I would appreciate knowing about it.

Because the experience uses a charcoal fire and the hearth, I also believe it is important for us to clarify our respective responsibilities, including any risks that may not be covered by insurance.

4. Cancellation

As a general rule, Awai Studio does not intend to cancel confirmed experiences.

However, if it becomes necessary to cancel a confirmed booking due to circumstances on the Shotoku-an side, costs such as payment processing fees or refund fees may arise.

In such a situation, I hope we can discuss how to handle any actual expenses incurred by Awai Studio.

Of course, circumstances beyond anyone's control—such as illness, natural disasters, severe weather warnings, or suspension of public transportation—should be handled through discussion and mutual understanding.

5. Website Publication

Once you have reviewed and approved the contents, and after we have reached a mutual understanding through our written confirmation, I would like to publish the experience on the Awai Studio website.

6. Written Confirmation

Before accepting reservations, I would like to prepare a simple one-page written confirmation covering topics such as:

- Pricing
- Booking procedures
- Cancellation policy
- Our respective responsibilities should any problems arise

7. Schedule

Late July

- Final review and revisions of the experience page

Mid-August

- Publish on the Awai Studio website
- Begin introducing the experience on social media
- Start accepting booking requests
- Review and improve the operation

From October

- Prepare the application for GetYourGuide

November–December

- Apply after gaining experience and participant reviews

8. Additional Plans

Commemorative Postcard

I would like to give each participant a small commemorative postcard after the experience.

The reverse side would include a QR code linking to the Awai Studio review page, where guests could share their impressions of the experience.

The front side would feature a Zen phrase written by a calligrapher who collaborates with Awai Studio, allowing guests to take home a meaningful memory of their time at Shotoku-an.

Future Possibilities

Calligraphy Display

In the future, I would like to discuss the possibility of displaying works by a calligrapher who collaborates with Awai Studio in the tea room or waiting room during the experience.

Naturally, I would like to proceed only after discussing everything with you and respecting your thoughts regarding the scrolls, their contents, and how they are displayed.

If the experience develops steadily, I would be grateful to discuss this idea together at a later stage.
